Uncle Tom's Mail Bag

THELMA COYOTES

Dear Uncle Tom: I am writing to tell you that I went to a basketball game on January 17. I got up very late the next day. I have not seen you since. I am setting some rabbit snares also. We expect our school will be open pretty soon. This winter we are getting a little bit of warm weather than it changes to cold.

Well, I must close now, wishing you and Aunt Polly a happy New Year. Your nephew, Amedee Dufour Spirit River.

You must have heard of him hunting and trapping. Amedee, when your school is closed, I hope you watch your traps carefully so that the snail made will not remain in the trap for a long time. Why did you not tell us that? I am sure you could have told quite a story about it. Write soon again, UNCLE TOM.

THOUGHTS WITH RINK

Dear Uncle Tom: Here I am again with another letter to your interesting Club. It is very cold just now, is it not? It has almost ruined my fun at skating this winter. We had our rink all made except to put some more water on it when the sun filled it all in, however, we think we can dig it out and have some fun yet. We are having lots of fun skating. We go right around the school-house, which you could come and coast with us, Uncle Tom.

I was in Edmonton on January 2, but it was late in the evening and I had just come from the special-luck and on Saturday I knew you would not be at the office so I did not get to see you. Have you ever had your eyes tested? If so, you may imagine how funny it feels after-ward.

Have you done any skating this winter yet? I am afraid I have no story to tell. Will you tell me what I got for Christmas when I wrote again. With best wishes to you and Aunt Polly your niece, Laura Austin, Ponoka.

Don't you think you will have lots of time to skate yet, Laura? You are lucky to have both skating and skating at your school. Uncle Tom was out for a jolly canoe last Sunday morning and I can assure you he enjoyed it quite as much as any of my sking for quite a long time but I don't think you are in Edmonton are sking these days. It is rather horrid getting one's eyes tested? Maybe another time you go to Edmonton you will call and see if I am in. Write soon again, Laura, UNCLE TOM.

LITTLE BROTHER DIES

Dear Uncle Tom: You will be surprised to hear from me. I went away to my Grandma's place last June and I just got back the third day of January. My sister, two brothers and myself had fun. I was very sick, but my brother, Billy was very sick and died the 18th of August. My cousin Margaret had it and was very sick but got along fine. I was in the hospital for sixteen days.

Santa Claus brought a lot of good things for us at Christmas. I hope I can still be a member of your club. I got my badge. I will close now. Your loving friend, Merrell Robertson, Vermilion.

MYSTIFYING RING

A ring is tied to the end of a coarse thread. The thread is set on fire so that part of it burns. The ring, however, does not fall, but remains mysteriously suspended by the thread. The thread must be previously prepared. It is so made that, though in a strong solution of salt and water, and is allowed to remain there for some time. When the thread is dry it may be used as described above. The salt in the thread holds the ashes together.

TRY YOUR STRENGTH

A piece of this board is placed on the edge of a table, not quite on a table, and over it a newspaper is spread out. Someone is asked to hold the stick and has it free of the paper, a feat which appears quite simple. The trick, however, is not so easy. The harder the spectator strikes, the firmer the stick remains. The paper holds it down quite securely and only gives slightly each time the stick is struck. The stick will be broken by the constant up-and-down motion by the spectator will find it almost impossible to dislodge the stick.

THE FIREPROOF FINGER

Considerable attention can be caused by slowly passing a finger through the flame of a lighted match. The surprising effect is repeated with different fingers until the match has burned out. The performer has a very tender skin he will find by experiment that a lighted match may be drawn along the front of any finger, very slowly, with no harm resulting. The flame does not winter time to take effect at any one point along the finger. The danger of the flame is held to the finger the faster so long as the match itself does not touch.

Three cards, each with a different article are placed in a row in the palm of the hand. The performer is asked to choose one of the three while the performer is out of the room. Upon his return one makes a sign, but the performer instantly names the chosen article. The trick is accomplished with the aid of a card which is smoking a clear cigarette. The confederate places his card in his mouth so that it designates the chosen card, but either at the left side, right side or centre of his mouth.

SOME BIG STATUES

The famous lions at the base of the Nelson monument in Trafalgar Square are the work of Sir Edwin Landseer. The figure of Nelson stands 14 ft. above them. These colossal lions, stationed in what has been called the "central square" of the universe, are said to have inspired to more potent balderdash than any lion in the world. They remain quite unmoved. The lion of lions is that on Lion Hill at Waterloo, marking one of the great battlefields of all time. The Lion of Tournai, the work of Thorwaldsen, was executed in 1821 in the memory of 25 officers and 750 soldiers of the Swiss Guards, who fell in the defence of the Tuileries on August 10, 1792. The animal reclining in a grove, is represented as doing, in a way, the work of the lion and sheathing the Bourbons with its paw.

BUTTERFLY'S WING IN ART

Prof. Hans Zacher of Hamburg claims to have succeeded by artificial means in reproducing the coloring of the wings of butterflies. The artist, using a microscope with much more of the feel and richness than the original. Frequently, the artist, a German scientist, has made artificial wings which would make "any butterfly in the world turn green with envy." The beautiful color effect in butterfly wings are produced by the scales on the wings. The scales are like thin plates which cause the glistering color in soap bubbles.

THE MEN OF DEVON.

All through history the men of Devon have done great things for our country with their hardihood and bravery.

Mr. Francis Drake and Hawkins, whose daring deeds you know about, were men of Devon. In the Boer War the Devonshire regiment distinguished itself for the bravery of its men.

In going about Devon, you see why the men of this country are such fine fellows. They have to traverse wide distances, often in mud or driving rain, with few landmarks to guide them, so they have to be very many of them find their cubs when going about their business or pleasure. You see shepherds and cattlemen riding over the moors, with their dogs at heel. The carpenter goes to his work or the sportsman takes his gun and ferrets on horseback.

These men-boys are generally good fellows. One point that I noticed about them with special pleasure—particularly after what I had told you about the men in Denmark and Sweden—was their courtesy and politeness.

Whenever you meet a man, whether he be a squire, or a farmer, or a "Dood-day" with a cherry smile and was ready to give information about the road, the country or the sport.

In the streams, trout and salmon abound and in the woods there are foxes and badgers and other wildlife. You see the moors you see wild ponies carrying about their red deer. There are many sheep.

Devon, glorious Devon, is a charming country and should make a special appeal to Scouts. No need to go abroad to find a fine, beautiful, sporting country when you have Devon close at hand to go to.

Owner of "Gunpowder Factory": "But fancy old Brown going into the gunpowder shed with a lighted candle. I should have thought that would be the last thing he would do."

Foreman: "Yes sir, it was."

HOW CHEESE MADE

A TOWN FAMOUS

Requefort, France, is the town that cheese made famous. The annual product is said to have soared to 15,000,000 pounds and it is sold all over the world. In order to assure a regular output which was not to be interrupted when the first steps of the process were entrusted to individual farmers, the cheese manufacturers have agreed, in recent years, milk, despite their fresh ewe's milk is delivered daily and undergoes special treatment. The milk after having been filtered and allowed to turn, is pressed into moulds and sewn with the apparatus of a microscope until, which assures its ripening or moulding. After having been drained, the fresh cheese is brought in to Requefort, where it is placed in natural cellars which have been provided in the rocky hillside. These cellars, which are situated in a large part, for the location of this industry at Requefort. The cheese is left in these natural cellars from 25 to 30 days.

A Winter Trip to Banff

DESCRIBES WINTER SCENERY

Dear Uncle Tom: I am sorry I have not written sooner, but I have not had time. I have not much to tell you so I will write about my trip to Banff. I shall not bore you with the story of my journey down. I arrived at Banff at seven o'clock on Monday night, December 1st.

When I arose next morning on looking north I beheld a lofty cascade towering over all the rest. Half of this mountain is covered with trees and the other half is bare, being solid rock.

After breakfast I went down town and looked around, and in the afternoon went skating and tobogganing on Tunnel Mountain. In the evening I went down to the skating rink and watched the hockey practice.

On Wednesday we went down to see the fish hatcheries, but there were only eggs in just then. We went on to the Spray River Bridge and saw Bow Falls. Coming back we climbed up to the C. P. R. hotel and walked up three flights of steps and out onto an old road. In the afternoon I went skating, and in the evening went to a

On Thursday I took some time to look over the scenery. All around Banff there are great mountains—Canmore, Sulphur, Rundle, Tunnel and Spray. Some are some of the names. Some are covered with trees and others are bare. Most of the houses are surrounded with trees. In the afternoon I went to the Cave and Head sulphur swimming pool, a large pool, a natural small pool and a cave which is small pool, where all the water comes from. It is beautiful, but the small is distinctly unpleasant. On Friday morning was done, and on Saturday the ground was covered with snow. With three other boys I climbed Tunnel Mountain. We came down on the run, which is faster than we went up.

I went for a walk in the afternoon, and to the theatre at night. As it snowed about three feet on Sunday night and was cold all the rest of the week I stayed inside most of the time. I came home on the following Monday. The train arrived at 11:30 on Monday night.

Imagine, if you ever get a chance visit Banff. The scenery is superb and there is lots of fun as well.

ARTHUR G. PHILLIPS, Kilmarnock.

WHAT THE PRODUCERS SAY

FINE PROGRAM IS ARRANGED

Edmonton Symphony Orchestra Will Perform Antonia Dvorak's New Symphony.

Dvorak's "New World" symphony, which the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra will present for the first time in Edmonton, tomorrow evening (Sunday) is undoubtedly one of the outstanding compositions of modern times. It was written in 1893, while Dvorak was visiting the United States and during his term of office as director of the National Conservatory in New York.

The work offers more than ordinary interest for it describes something of the impressions of the New World on a master, who for more than thirty years had lived and developed in the musical centre of Europe.

Slightly different from Dvorak's other work, this symphony is said to have been largely inspired by an extensive study of the original Negro and Indian melodies of this continent and to have been composed with more regard to modern composition, than his earlier work.

In the musical programme, largely there appears a theme of peculiar charm which it is reported was written immediately after reading the new story of Hilaritas and Minnie-bach.

Two other numbers will be given on the same program including Hilaritas and Minnie-bach, "The Little House," which was chosen for being appropriate to the birthday of Robert Burns birthday;—the same date as the concert.

Mrs. J. B. Carmichael will be the vocal soloist of the evening, her number being "The Little House," accompanied by the full orchestra.

It is not generally known that Mrs. Carmichael possesses a dramatic soprano voice of rare quality. Having taken up the violin and orchestra work, Mrs. Carmichael spent four years as vocal soloist with the F. M. City Symphony Orchestra of New York and has also appeared with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and the St. Louis State Symphony.

That the fame of the P.B.O. is not confined to the limits of Edmonton, is proved by the number of communications received by the secretary from outside points, many of which are inquiries from ambitious musicians wishing to play with the orchestra.

Two such inquiries received recently from Calgary will result in the appearance tomorrow night, of two talented from the latter city following the unenviable shames of R. F. Cooper and H. H. H.

CONCERTS OF A SEA HAWK. In a picture of glowing romance, stirring adventure, and spectacular splendor, you will see—action, color, and sea, thousands of warriors, commanding and in hand to hand fighting on grappled galleons and galleons—Harrow scenes, slave markets, Moorish castles—gaily ships sailing the sea for booty, pirates sailing treasure craft—innocent moments and romantic nights in the East—scenes of splendor and beauty in Algiers and the rolling sea under full moon.

The "Sea Hawk" starts a new day sailing at the Capitol theatre today.

Plays and Photoplays in Edmonton

LISTS OF ATTRACTIONS

POLA NEGRI IN EMPRESS FILM

"Forbidden Paradise" Will Commence Three-Day Engagement Monday.

"Forbidden Paradise" the first American-made Paramount picture starring Pola Negri to be directed by Ernst Lubitsch, creator of "Passion." The Marriage Circle, etc., seems to the Edmonton theatre for a run of three days on Monday next.

The professional reputation of these two in the making of such an important production as "Forbidden Paradise" is significant. It follows a demand which has been constant from critics and the public since the professional efforts resulted in productions.

"Forbidden Paradise" was adapted from the famous stage play "The Cenci" by Agnes Christine Johnson and Hans Krash, and the dramatic suspense which made the stage production so successful is introduced in many striking new features.

For the first time, Agnes Johnson and Hans Krash are featured in the production.

BLOSSOM TIME HOLDS THE FRIENDS IT WINS

Once more this city will have the pleasure of listening to the making of "Blossom Time," the musical play in which there is used much of the charming music from Franz Schubert, when it is presented at the Empire theatre on Feb. 23rd and 24th.

The public loves good music and "Blossom Time" is rich with music that never fails to win approval and the approval to be heard here has shapers competent to present the offering at its best.

It is advertised by its producers as the most successful musical play in the history of the theatre, a statement that seems abundantly justified by past history. It is the Empire theatre on Thursday, Feb. 23rd for an engagement of five days.

This is an entirely new entertainment, containing not a feature or a costume used in any of the Dumbells previous review. This year the management has made a clear sweep of everything, including the old favourites and have succeeded in organizing and presenting a review which, unlike in comedy, in color, in scope and in variety, is generally admitted to be their best achievement since their first return to Canada after the war.

The production does not at any time unduly stress war backgrounds. There are two highly diverting farces, one depicting a dream of two "red" Canadian privateers who imagine they are being waited upon royally by a British monarch who is in the city a characteristic London official and a British official who is in the city a characteristic London official.

There are many excellent songs as well as a few. There is a big favorite as ever, has a Kismet song, "I'll have it Bobbed or Shingled." "I'll have it Bobbed or Shingled."

There is a lively and extremely popular, Jack Holland as full of new, exciting features in which he is a success at ever, and has a novel number.

There is a new number, an "Invaluable" "Red" for he contributes a wonderful female impersonation as dancer and both in make-up and dance delights his audience.

Don Hamilton as "Marjorie" is seen in a lovely bride's costume in a charming setting with Al. Plunkett. The Bella of St. Mary's, and also appears in a beautifully staged flower number.

"Red" Newman, Stan Bennett in "Johnnie" offer act-up, Pat Rafferty and Ben Allen, all contribute good comedy in song, and Allen and Morley Plunkett provide diverting dialogue and monologue. The last band of Captain Plunkett is as big a success as ever, and has a novel number.

Taken all in all, The Dumbells show this year is a first-rate entertainment. That is the verdict of every city and town in which it has so far been shown.

STOP THAT COUGH NOW!
With a Few Doses of
Dr. Wood's
Norway Pine Syrup

Mrs. Alex Foster, R.R. No. 2, Proton, Ont. writes: "I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and my cough was so bad, at times it seemed as if it were tearing my lungs to pieces. I sent and got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and got relief after the first few doses, and by the time I had finished the bottle I was completely rid of both my cold and cough."

"Dr. Wood's" has been on the market for the past 35 years; you don't experiment with some new and untried remedy when you buy it, put up only by The T. Millers Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

capacity sold out in nearly every place where it has been shown, shows what can be done when a high class musical production is presented for the public and competent people are engaged to present it. For three years the original company has been singing it, night after night, to audiences that give every evidence of approval and the approval is well earned because it has given unmeasured pleasure to many thousands of men and women over the land. "Blossom Time" not only wins, but retains friends.

WINE OF YOUTH AT RIALTO

"Wine of Youth" will be the most popular picture to be ever made. It was released can be taken as an indication, says King Vidor, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer director.

While Vidor was making "Wine of Youth" from Rachel Crothers' stage play, "Mary the Third," which is showing at the Rialto theatre today for the last time, he received more than 100,000 letters from fans on the filming of the picture than any he has ever done.

As soon as it was announced that Eleanor Boardman, Ben Lyon, William Collier Jr., Bobby Aasen, William Haines, Pauline Glavin, Johnnie Reilly, and other members of the cast had been engaged to play in the picture, letters from fans everywhere began pouring into Vidor's office.

Evidently, the director says, had some young juveniles of the screen are more popular than tragic leading men.

Financial and Markets

PAST WEEK AT LOCAL STOCKYARDS

Receipts of Cattle Fairly Heavy—Large Number of Plain

EDMONTON STOCKYARDS, Jan. 23.—The receipts for the past week were, receipts, cattle 1,478; calves 187; hogs 2,241; sheep 80.
Another week of fairly heavy receipts for this time of the year caused a slight slowing up on the market due to a large percentage of common and lowdown kinds of arrivals and also a slackening off in the demand for medium and all good cattle showing flashing skin keeps keen and prices on this class of stock are fairly steady to strong with last week's close but the common and lowdown kinds of cattle were decidedly hard to move at prices which were inclined to be 21 cents weaker. The steer and feeder market was slow under an indifferent demand, all good stock and calf at steady prices but common kinds were decidedly hard to sell at weaker prices. The calf market was a little stronger especially for choice calves.

The hog market was inclined to be stronger, a top of 10.50 was reached with the balance of the hogs selling at 9.75 to 9.80 off cash.

There was a good demand for lambs of good quality which are quoted at 12.00 to 14.00, yearlings 11.00 to 12.00 and ewes 8.50 to 10.00.

Following are the cattle quotations: Some choice report sales 4.00 to 4.25 to 4.50 with the bulk of the good to common butchers going at 3.00 to 3.50, common to medium 2.50 to 3.00, common to medium 2.00 to 2.50.

PRICES SOAR ON WHEAT MARKET

Values Reach Highest Level for Several Years—Demand is Very Firm

WINNIPEG, Jan. 23.—The wheat market since war days, were enacted on the Winnipeg grain exchange today, when wheat's highest level since 1919 was reached. Opening at $1.93 the price started up, and the market was in a state of feverish excitement.
Heavy offerings failed to stop the rise, and with the pit in a turmoil the price had risen to $2.01 3/4 by twelve o'clock.

On an enormous tidal wave of buying, values touched their highest levels since 1919 on the Winnipeg grain exchange today, when wheat for May delivery sold for $2.02 a bushel.

Buyers crowded the pit as the Market opened and initial prices came 1-2 to 1 cent a bushel higher than the Market's closing price of the previous week.

Values started climbing at the outset and during the morning were taking all offers in sight at $1.99 1/4 and $1.99 3/4.

There was a slight lull after the first hour, then a new boom sent the price to the long-awaited goal. There was high excitement on the floor as the quotations went through the $2.00 mark, and to Bruce McLean, veteran trader at the local pit, went the distinction of buying the first consigna-ment of wheat at $2.00.

Even at $2.00 the buying power was not exhausted. Export interest after wheat, and when one house in the pit, a big buyer, ordered several again to $2.02, reaching at the close to just over $2.00.

Toddy's market was a really remarkable one with a tremendous trade in value passing, and right from the opening to the close the market was in a state of high excitement. There was

STOCK PRICES
VERY ERRATIC

Values Drop on Market After Many Reach New Highs for Year.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Considerable irregularity developed toward the close of today's stock market after an early period of strength during which nearly thirty issues advanced to their high levels in a year the usual week-end profit taking and a sharp break of more than four points in American Woolens, which was attributed to unfavorable rumors concerning the preferred dividend and expectations of a poor 1924 earnings report. United States Steel common opened 3-4 higher at 129 3/4, or just seven points below its record price established in 1917, and then dropped to 128 closing slightly above that figure for a net loss of 3-4 points in the day. Railway stocks also closed about a point lower at 144 1/4.

Another series of gasoline and crude oil price advances brought about buying in the oil. Pacific Oil led the advance, closing 3-4 higher at 59 1/4. Marland, Phillips, Shell Union, Sinclair and the Pan-Amortic and Standard Oil issues all reached new high levels on the moment.

United States Steel Iron Pipe was up nearly fifteen points to 131, a recovery on the publication of its 1924 earnings statement, showing more than 140 a share earned on the common stock. American Sugar finishing tumbled 2 3/4 per cent day.

TO ENFORCE LAW

STIRTON FALLO, Ont., Jan. 22.—The resolution adopted by last year's council ordering the chief of police to refrain from enforcing the Ontario Temperance Act following

"I'd like to hitch myself to the sleigh."

Sighed the Old Brown Horse with wheezy snail.

"Such fun it was in the Long Ago To pull it swiftly over the snow!"

But the automobile has changed all that.

And here I stand in my wooden stall.

"Cheer up," twittered a little voice at the window just in front of the old sleigh's head.

Three wood little Bobbie Redvat, his grimace water-cool shining in the rays of Mr. Henry Sun.

"Cheer up!" exclaimed the Old Brown Horse, turning his head toward his small feathered visitor.

"With somebody would say 'Gid-up!' instead. I'd like to be between the shafts of the old sleigh trotting off to Rabbitville."

"Harness yourself to the sleigh," answered the little robin. "I'll help buckle on your collar and slip the traces on the whiffle tree."

And, would you believe it, Little Redvat? That good old horse at once trotted over to the harness room and slipping his head into the big leather collar, gave a push and a pull and a twist and a turn, until goodness only knows, he had the harness on as nicely as you please.

Then, trotting out to the carriage house he jacked in between the shafts of the old-fashioned sleigh while the nimble little robin fastened the traces and buckled the collar.

"Where are you going?" asked Bobbie Redvat, as he perched on the seat and held up the reins.

"Down to the dear Old Bramble Patch," answered the Old Brown Horse with a whisk of his tail. "Gone to take the rabbit family out for a sleigh ride. Hurrah! I feel young as a colt. Don't the sleigh bells tinkle?"

And away went the happy old sleigh, every now and then throwing off the cakes of snow which had formed in the hollow of its iron shoes.

Like snowballs they whizzed past the head of the little robin as he sat on the seat, holding the reins to keep them from dragging over the snow. He didn't try to drive the old horse. No indeed. He knew the old sleigh would keep to the road.

The Old Brown Horse had trotted over it many and many a time in the good old days when buggies and sleighs were good enough for people who didn't wish to walk, or were too lazy to run!

By and by, after a while, and a wheeze and a snuffle—for the Old Brown Horse soon found out that he wasn't as young as he used to be, a snuffle today seemed more than three times as loud as the Old Redvat's.

He stopped at the Old Redvat's Patch and told Lady Love and Little Jack Rabbit to come out for a
